

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAMS

Greenheart's High School Programs division encompasses three departments working with various visa categories. Our programs consist of the J-1 High School Program, F-1 High School Program, and Short-Term Programs (depending on country, students may not need a B-2 visa for Short-Term Programs).

J-1 HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM

Our J-1 High School program allows participants from all over the world the opportunity to attend a public high school in one of many locations across the U.S. while living with a welcoming American host family. Students will improve their English, make friends, and gain leadership skills while serving as citizen ambassadors of their country. Semester and academic year options are available for all eligible students.

F-1 HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM

Our F-1 High School Program allows students to choose a specific geographic location and even choose the school they would like to attend, including public, private, and boarding schools. Program lengths vary from 3 months (one trimester) to all 4 years of high school. At select schools, students may also be able to graduate with a high school diploma within one year and most schools allow students to graduate with at least 2 years of enrollment.

SHORT-TERM PROGRAMS

GROUP HOMESTAY

Our Group Homestay Programs are an ideal way for students aged 13 to 17 to discover American culture and create memories with their peers. Dynamic English language and American culture classes provide opportunities for participants to improve their English skills in an informal environment, while homestays with American host families complete the cultural immersion. Various destinations are available, each offering a unique array of exciting excursions and activities. Group sizes are between 10 to 20 students with one to two adult leaders per group. Groups can be arranged from 10 days to up to three weeks.

INDEPENDENT HOMESTAY

Our Independent Homestay Program focuses on American culture and home life with options to add high school visit or volunteering components. Individual teens and adults (15 and older) become members of an American family and get to know U.S. culture firsthand through a true immersion experience. Participants are placed with a carefully-screened, volunteer host family that provides a safe environment. This program is suitable for mature participants who are comfortable traveling to the host community on their own and having unstructured time throughout their stay. Programs may be two to eight weeks in length.
